Children learn sight words and colors while a simple story develops. Great for home or school, each paperback contains these same activity pages to copy and reuse as you teach.

Each Shape book begins with the confidence building sentence, “I can read and count shapes.” the child turns the page and finds a series of shapes like;

“2 black dots, 1 yellow circle, 6 black lines, 1 yellow oval, and 2 orange triangles.” Now that the name, number, and color of each has been given, the story begins. Page by page, in individual layers, shapes are shown again (by name, color and number) until the figure of a cat forms.

The next page asks, “Can shapes make shapes?” Again, shapes layer as an image builds and students read the name, color and count of the same shapes. The second image morphs into a chick. One final opportunity to practice asks,

“Can the same shapes make a new shape?” And yes, we find our final pet becomes two “fancy floating fish.”

This package contains shape cut-outs the students can move around on their own.
